NEW YORK, July 4.—The New York Giants spent the fourth to-day by chasing the Phillies at the Polo Grounds. Two games of entirely different natures were played, yet both very interesting in their separate ways. To use an apt expression of a roofer, one was a no-hit game and the other an all-hit game. In the morning Wiltse made the unique record of pitching a ten-inning game in which the Quakers did not gain anything that bore particularly close kinship to a hit. That was by all odds the big event of the day, so far as baseball performances go, but the afternoon game had much more bustle and vivacity and go. It was a slugging match, in which New York easily excelled.

Taylor and Corridon proved poor wet ball handlers, Taylor being batted out in the second inning, and Corridon being unable to control when ball at bat. McGinnity and Moren were both improvements, though Moren was hit freely. The slugging began right off the bat, in the first inning, when Taylor, batted to right, Titus made a similar hit, and Brunsford prodded a three-bagger over Seymour's head. Before the inning was over New York had the lead and went it out better. Tenny doubled to Magee's domicile, Doyle singled to right, Reynolds sacrificed, and Donlin and Seymour made hits. Doyle was the big stick boy of the game. He made three singles and a triple.

New York scored again in the fourth on Doyle's triple and Knabe's indecision in handling Donlin's infield sacrifice. The score was 3 to 0. Seymour, Devlin's out, Brunsford's error and a double steal gave them their ninth run.

Wiltse was inviolable. He waved his southpaw curves with faultless control when hitting the hitless garment to the unwilling shouters of the Quakers in the morning game, and he gave support to the proper pitcher to see to it that two balls were taken care of. He is the first left-hander who ever pitched a side made no hits, according to statistical sharps.

Only thirty-one batters faced Wiltse yesterday. The only man to get on was McQuillen, the third batter in the ninth inning. Wiltse and Bresnahan thought he had him struck out and started to celebrate. But Wiltse let it all. The next pitch struck McQuillen on the shoulder and put him on first base, the only blot of Wiltse's immaculate record and one too miscellaneous to count.

McQuillen, although up against a line of hits by his comrades, pitched a neat pratworthy game himself. Score:

PITTSBURG, PA., July 4.—Chicago shut out Pittsburg in the first game to-day by a score of 2 to 0. Errors on the part of the home team in the first inning were largely responsible for the visitors' runs. Pittsburg was unable to hit Brown.

Boston and Brooklyn Divide.

BOSTON, MASS., July 4.—Boston won the afternoon game from Brooklyn, 2 to 1. Pastorius was easy for the locals in the fourth, and Wilhelm could not stop the batting.

We sent the "Bugs" back home before to learn the game. Did they learn it? Well, judging from the lemon they handed the "Lawmakers" yesterday afternoon one would think so. The "Bugs" had hands for catching and arms for batting.

The immense crowd reminded us of the attendance upon Berry's Mid-Summer Sale of Fine Suits for Men and Boys. There's not a lemon in the whole lot!

TARS BREAK EVEN WITH PORTSMOUTH

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, VA., July 4.—Norfolk and Portsmouth broke even in to-day's game, the Tarheers winning the morning contest by the score of 4 to 3, and the Tars winning the afternoon game 2 to 0. The attendance was gratifying in both cities.

A whirlwind finish gave the Tarheers the first game. Up to the seventh inning they had shut out 4 to 0, but Prior weakened, and the team took a balloon ascension while Portsmouth got five men around the bases. Vall was not up to his usual form.

In the afternoon game Fox was invincible, keeping the few hits well scattered, and he was given credit for support. It was a remarkably clean game on a field slippery and treacherous by reason of a light rain that fell one hour before the game.

Hallman, sent to the firing line, was an easy mark from the jump, and after two runs had been scored in the first was relieved by Hamilton, who was very effective.

HEADY FIRST BASEMAN

JAY KANZLER.

Who knows all the finer points of the game. Kanzler is not only there at first, but is one of the Lawmakers' most reliable hitters.

CULPEPER SHOW
RECORD BREAKER

CULPEPER, VA., July 4.—The second day of the Culpeper Horse Show and Racing Association was a record-breaking one in the large crowd present, the fine racing and the many awards of big purses for the racers and exhibitors. The following are some of the awards for exhibitors of the horses:

For one-year-old colts, prize $30, to Brentwood Stock Farm. Best stallion, prize $20, to Allendale Farm. Roadsters, prize $30 dollars, to Dickinson Brothers. Ponies, prize, $15, to Miss Annie Karn. Harness horse, prize $25, to E. Weatherbee. Lightweights, hunters, prize $40, to E. Weatherbee. Ladies' harness horses, prize $35, to Allendale Farm. Best saddle horse, prize $35, to E. Weatherbee. Handicap horses, prize $35, to U. D. Benner. Best saddle horses, prize $30, to Sorino. Ladies' hunters, prize $40, to E. Weatherbee, twenty-seven entered. Hunters and jumpers, prize $50, to Hale and Sons, twenty-nine entered.

The Blues Band was out to help celebrate the Fourth.

The Lawmakers posed for their picture before the game.

McKenzie warmed up with Buster Brown, a three-footer.

The largest crowd that has ever been in the ball park was present in the afternoon.

McKenzie was swatting the ball some. We could do nothing in the lucky seventh. Doyle put us in the bad when he nabbed Richter's bouncer.

Manager Lippe gave Riggs his release yesterday morning. There were no regrets.

Chenault, Norfolk's castoff, went in before the largest crowd of the season and pitched good game, but he was as wild as an Indian.

Henn came within an inch of getting Messitt's two-bagger.

Chenault threw wild to first and let Powell get to third. Henn bunted and he came home.

Lippe has got one of the best arms of any player in the league.

Guess Lippe didn't go up in the air to nab Powell's bouncer that looked good for a hit.

Seven batters faced Walker in the first. Chenault got off bad in the second. Lippe gave Stafford four balls, then threw wild, letting him go to third. Messitt's passed ball let him in.

Reinhart's error let Messitt get home in the second.

Henn got the first hit off Chenault in the third.

Sandherr made an error of the first ball he got, but it didn't count for anything.

Messitt caught Henn asleep on first.

Lippe was cracked in the back mighty hard by Walker.

Sieber swatted out the first hit of the game.

Two hits and one run in the first inning for the locals.

Norfolk and Portsmouth broke even in the two games. Both were close scores.

Headnote hit off in Lynchburg in both games. The second was called in the seventh on account of rain.

What will the Lynchburg players do with all of that money they were going to get if they won both games?

Trydeman swatted out two two-baggers.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

LYNCHBURG, VA., July 4.—Roanoke beat Lynchburg in both games here to-day, taking the morning contest 14 to 1, and the afternoon game by 6 to 2, this being stopped by rain at the end of the seventh. About 8,000 people saw the games, 3,000 going out in the afternoon in a rain, in which the game was stopped.

In the morning the visitors hit Schuman rather hard, but with proper support he should have won by a score of 6 to 2.

Day's error allowed the score to be tied, and Wallace's fumble in the eleventh game Roanoke the game.

In the afternoon Reynolds was hit hard, but Roanoke outgeneraled the Shoemakers at every stage and won hands down.
